COUNTESS GIVES REFORMS WIN MUSIC RECITAL IN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—A sweeping victory for the reform measures championed by Governor Hiram Johnson and the Progressive Legislature chosen at the last election is indicated by the early returns.

An overwhelming vote in favor of the Initiative and referendum and the recall of public officials, including the judiciary, was reported from all over the State. The vote carried a heavy vote in favor of granting suffrage to the colored people. The southern part of the State, the northern section was against the measure and it is believed to be defeated. Later returns will, it is believed, at Woman Suffrage headquarters, show a majority for the measure.

Twenty-three proposed amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth were voted on. Of these the three measures and the proposition to make the State Railroad Commission an appellate body and empowering the Legislature

Early returns showed 3,645 votes for the initiative and referendum, on the other hand, 11,289 for the amendment. But the recall, notwithstanding the bitter fight made against it by leading Republicans, was expected to have overwhelming emphasis—11,289 to 3,488.

Results of the vote on the amendment are favored by 8,170 to 4,683.

San Francisco voters voted heavily in favor of the initiative and referendum by a margin of 8,000. In San Francisco and other cities in the northern California belt, the majority was in favor of the proposed amendment.

Age Marks From Skin

(Modern Styles)

By discarding powder and cosmetic and using a mayatene lotion, it is an easy matter to gradually remove wrinkles and facial blemishes and give the aged, lumpy or unlovely skin
the rich, embellishment of youthful health. The lotion, which is made by dissolving an original package of mayatene in eight ounces of witch-hazel, should be applied daily.

Before using, the skin should be thoroughly cleansed of dust and grime, and then the lotion gently massaged into the face, neck and arms.
The result is a soft and smooth skin, free from wrinkles and with the aid of this inexpensive lotion,
the skin is freed of pimples, blackheads and other impurities, and the skin grows firm and smooth, and takes

BRIBERY CHARGE BY W. J. BURNS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 11.—With the opening of the trial of the McNamee brothers here to-day, it became known that Detective William J. Burns, at Columbus, Ind., had made charges accusing the defense attorneys to bribe the State's witnesses.

Burns, whose work resulted in the arrests of the labor men, declared that the defense had repeatedly tried to buy off the witnesses, and that when they had refused large sums of money, threats had been made.

Burns said that the McNamee boys would have a fair and impartial trial, and that a large part of the rank and file of organized labor was with him, and

These theories, that John McNamara was innocent, were the only ones that were presented were all the same. The only thing we have to fear is that the jury will find the defense to be the only witnesses. When they find large sums of money that had been paid to the McNamara's, they will be suspicious then. Neither of them had any relatives of death have made our witnesses. We will be fully shown up, and threatened and will set things in their true light. I thought before Judge Walter N. Bond was on the bench, that the McNamara's would win the decision of the Superior Court in day in court. I thought that the McNamara's were a gangster, one of the thirteen victims of the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building. Another Town Taken by the Italians

There is One Good Thing About War—the Best Nation or Government Usually Wins

Copyright, 1911, by American Journal Company

In the routine news of the war between Italy and Turkey the dispatches announced "the taking of another town on the Tripoli coast." The Italians in their various attacks on the Turks have been as uniformly systematic and successful as an intelligent farmer in his attacks on the turkeys in his farmyard.

That is one good thing about war—and in modern days at least, when war is no longer needed to carry education with it—the only good thing.

The people or the government that OUGHT to win usually do win.

The Italians beat the Turks, and will beat them systematically, because the Italian government and the Italian people are superior to the Turks—infinite superior in their ideals, their civilization; especially superior in the cause which drives them to war.

It has been thus through history. The small United States, with the help of France, beat the English because we had a better cause and a better government, based on the Declaration of Independence, which was then new to the world.

The Germans beat the French in 1870, not because the Germans were a better people, for Germans and French are equally great peoples, but because France had a bad government, a miserable ruler called Napoleon III, who was ruled in his turn by a woman. France needed to get rid of that kind of a ruler, needed to wipe out the imitation Napoleon. And expensive as the war was, it may be called a good war for France, as good as it was for Germany. For France has risen greater than ever.

When Alexander, taught by the noblest Greek, conquered decayed and worn Athens just as a little side issue in his big career, it was because the real Athens was no more.

The Boers were defeated, not because they were a smaller people, but because they had a deformed government, based on religious intolerance. With a better government they might have withstood all of the power of England.

The handful of Japanese beat the Russians because Japan was a united, thinking nation and Russia a festering mass of discontent, driven to war against the will of the fighters. The Japanese beat huge China because China had no government.

Italy repeats the old story of victory on the side of right. It cannot be too often repeated that the Italians are fighting, not because they want to, or because any patriotic Italian conceives that there is any glory in beating the miserable Turks.

The Italians are fighting the Turks, or rather THEY ARE PUNISHING THE TURKS AS THEY DESERVE, because of Turkish brutalities to the weak; because Turkey still represents what has been crushed elsewhere—religious bigotry and hatred and torture and death inflicted upon those of a different faith.

Americans should view with discontent and disfavor any attempt on the part of foreign governments to limit the action of Italy or interfere with the admirable work of international police which the Italian government has taken upon its shoulders.

If we had good reason for fighting Spain when we did, Italy has the best of reasons for fighting Turkey to-day.

The cruelties inflicted by the Spaniards upon the unhappy Cubans and the Filipinos are as nothing compared with the bloody cruelty of the Turks.

Italy would have been false to all of her historical traditions, false to her duty as a nation, and absolutely recreant in her duty to her defenseless subjects suffering under Turkish misery if she had failed to declare this war and prosecute it vigorously.

Everybody Is Against Him Except the People

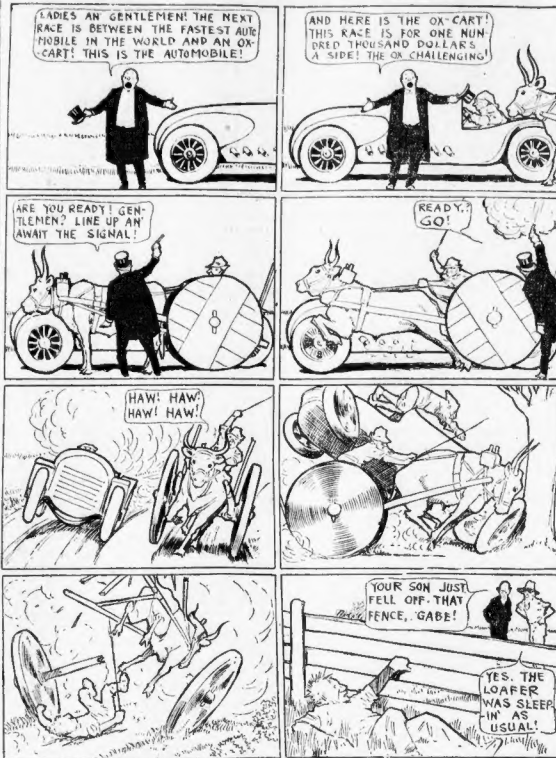

The comment by Governor Foss upon Henry M. Whitney's second stab in the back within one year contains the whole story of this campaign in seven words: "Everybody is against me except the people."

That is true. Everybody whom the interests can command is against Governor Foss. There never was a struggle in which the power of those enjoying special privileges at the expense of all the people was exerted more intensely than it is now being exerted to put into office a man who knows only his master's voice, who has learned only to obey, and who knows no other command than that which he has heeded ever since he left college and which has rewarded his servitude by promotion in public office, the empty honors of which he has enjoyed while leaving the substance to his masters.

That Mr. Whitney proposes to support Mr. Frothingham because the Frothingham view of the tariff is nearer to the interests of Massachusetts than to the Foss view of the tariff is a joke exceeded only in absurdity by Whitney's declaration last January that he supported Senator Lodge for re-election because he believed that Lodge had become more sound on the tariff.

It is cruel of Mr. Whitney's financial associates to compel him to go through these useless and ridiculous pantomimes whenever a reactionary is in danger. Mr. Whitney has now some time been harmless. He never was a Democrat. He never drew a real Democratic breath in his life, and, in his day, he has been responsible for more that is evil in the public life of Massachusetts than even the influence of Senators Lodge and Crane.

During his days of activity he never touched public affairs but to taint them. He has been right in years upon but one issue, which was reciprocity, and he had a selfish interest in that. Mr. Whitney is not the only alleged Democrat who will probably desert Governor Foss. We may expect more of them as the campaign waxes warmer, and it is becoming that Mr. Whitney should read them off. He perfectly typifies the class of men who will desert Governor Foss this year, but no one need be disturbed by their alleged desertions, for, if the truth were known about their votes last year, not one of them could call themselves deserters when they declare for Mr. Frothingham, the figurehead of the Republican machine of Massachusetts. One cannot desert a cause he never supported.

The Celebration of Columbus Day Is a Patriotic Duty Incumbent Upon Every Member of the Commonwealth

To-morrow, Columbus Day, this newspaper will issue a special paper, in honor of the day, which, in many of its leading features, will be a souvenir edition.

The celebration of Columbus Day is a patriotic duty incumbent upon every citizen of this Commonwealth.

Already twenty-nine States of the Union, including the great States of New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois and California, and all the States of New England except New Hampshire, have passed laws adding Columbus Day to their list of legal holidays.

This year the number of observing States will be materially increased, and before five years have passed the celebration of Columbus Day will be nation-wide.

The observance to-morrow in the city of Boston will be on a scale of great magnitude and real fete-day brilliancy. First among the features of the day will come the Columbus Day parade, in which some 50,000 men are expected to take part.

Under the command, as chief marshal, of Lieutenant-Colonel Dunn of the Ninth Infantry, the parade will move promptly at twelve noon, from the junction of Herford and Beacon streets. It will take at least three hours to pass a given point, even at the quick step set by the music of the scores of bands.

Patriotic floats and historical emblems of various kinds will serve as object lessons on the meaning of the holiday to the half million people massed along the route.

The gentlemen composing the committee of arrangements deserve congratulation now that the end of their labors is in sight. They have worked hard to make their share of the day's festivities prove brilliantly successful. It will not be their fault if the observance fails to meet the highest expectations. All that admits of doubt is the weather. And everything just now looks bright in that direction.

It only remains for the citizens to ring out their banners in honor of the man whose genius gave to the world and to humanity an America, and all take part in honoring his name.

The day will be rounded out with a grand illuminated water carnival on the Charles River Basin, along the embankments of which people by the hundred thousand will assemble as evening closes down to witness one of the finest aquatic spectacles in the history of Boston.

Since this newspaper first announced the carnival, expressions of heartiest approval have literally poured in by mail and telephone to the editor in charge of the carnival, expressing strong appreciation of the AMERICAN's enterprise in promoting so fine a holiday feature in honor of Columbus Day.

With the great parade at noon, the Charles River Basin carnival at night and numerous minor celebrations in between, all over Greater Boston, the 1911 celebration of Columbus Day will pass into history as worthy of the illustrious man in whose honor it was held.

In the Wood

I LIE on joy's enchanted ground;
No other notes but those green trees
That sigh and cling to every breeze;
And that deep solemn, hollow sound
Born of the grave, and made by bees.
Now do I think of this packed world,
Where thousands of rich people sweat,
Like common slaves, in idle fret;
Not knowing how to buy with gold
This house of joy that makes no debt.
What little wealth true joy doth need;
I pay for wants that make no show;
I pay my way and nothing owe;
I drink my ale, I smoke my weed,
And take my time where'er I go.

"What's the Use?"

By WEX JONES

JACK SNOOKER was a bright young man; his skull was full of brain; but anything that meant hard work gave Jack an awful pain. All evening he'd played Kelly pool, but he'd simply raise the dence if asked to work for half an hour. He'd say, "Oh, what's the use?"

Now, all his school companions worked, each had his job or trade, and one earned more and one earned less, but he saved up what he made. He thought work was foolish and a worker was clumsy. He said, "They work their lives away, the chumps—for what's the use?"

In time Jack's friends had cozy homes, while Jack himself had none; he shrank into a shabby room when his loafing day was done. He found some strange companions; he was playing fast and loose. And said, "This honesty is bunk, and then—oh, what's the use?"

Well, Jack progressed from idleness and began to use his brain. But only in the tortuous ways that bring illicit gain. The law seemed mighty slow to him, but he ended in its noose. And as he left for Charlestown he muttered, "What's the use?"
